MINGRITY UPHOLDS TREATY, DENOUNCES LODGE REPORT AS AIMED TO DESTROY LEAGUE

Says Amendments Would Take From U. S. Any Further Power Over Germany.

DELAY HAMPERS TRADE.

Commerce With Germany Only Two Cents Per Month for Each Inhabitant.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Rejection of the Peace Treaty with its League of Nations Covenant, or adoption of amendments would mean sacrifice by the United States of all concessions obtained from Germany under a dictated peace, minority members of the Foreign Relations Committee declared in a report presented today to the Senate.

The report, prepared by Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska, ranking Democratic member of the committee, urged speedy ratification of the treaty without amendments or reservations. It urged "the long and unnecessary delay to which the treaty has been subjected while locked up in the committee whose recommendations were from the start a foregone conclusion" and asserted these recommendations could have been made in July.

Senator Shields, Democrat, Tennessee, did not sign the report, having announced that he favored the reservations to the League Covenant prepared by Chairman Lodge. It was stated that he would not present a separate report. Those signing, in addition to Senator Hitchcock, were Senator Williams, Mississippi; Swanson, Virginia; Pomeroy, Ohio; Smith, Arizona; and Pittman, Nevada, all Democrats.

DENIES POWER TO FURTHER COERCE THE GERMANS.

The minority denied the claim put forth in Chairman Lodge's report that the Peace Conference still was in session and has power "to bring German representatives to bay," saying "such power of compulsion had been exhausted, and that Germany had closed the chapter by signing and ratifying."

The report mentioned twelve concessions the United States would lose by failure to ratify the Treaty, these including industrial and economic advantages and agreements.

Reservations proposed by the majority are denounced as having been the work of senators who are determined to destroy the League of Nations, and, if possible, defeat the treaty itself. Adoption of the proposed amendments, would amount to a rejection of the treaty.

The minority recommended that the work of the Peace Conference be confirmed and the peace of the world advanced by ratification of the Treaty described as the best hope of the world, "even if like an instrument."

POLICE CHAPLAIN SEIZES FUGITIVE AFTER HARD FIGHT

Joins in Chase and Captures Man Accused of Burglary and Assault.

That a Chaplain of the Police Department may have other than religious duties was shown today, when Chaplain Father Coogan, rector of St. Jerome's Church, at 138th Street and Alexander Avenue, grappled with a burglar and overpowered him after a chase which caused great excitement in that district.

On Aug. 31, Joseph Venterine, a saloonkeeper, of No. 481 Morris Avenue, heard a noise in his saloon and went downstairs to investigate. He was beaten to unconsciousness by the intruder. Upon recovering consciousness, he notified Patrolman Joseph Nihil of the Alexander Avenue Station, naming the man.

At noon today Patrolman Nihil recognized the man at 139th Street and started after him. The fugitive ran south, and the officer fired three shots in the air. Father Coogan, who was eating lunch in the rectory, heard the shots and rushed to the street just as the man was running past the police station. He started in pursuit and in a short time was joined by a number of citizens and several hundred school children.

Between Third and Alexander Avenues, after a dozen shots had been fired, the fugitive ran up the fire escape of a house and entered the second floor. Patrolman Nihil followed him and Father Coogan went to the basement, where a number of policemen surrounded the house. The man ran to the basement and grappled with the chaplain, who soon overpowered him.

He gave his name as Joseph Rado, twenty-six years old, a driver, living at No. 315 East 150th Street, and will be arraigned this afternoon at the Morrisania Court on a charge of burglary.

After Rado was locked up Father Coogan went back to his lunch.

Under the new plan it will take five victories instead of four to settle the world's baseball championship this year.

PERSHING VISITS MRS. ROOSEVELT AT OYSTER BAY

Greeted by Widow and Kisses the Youngsters—Attends Big Meeting To-Night.

RUSHES BACK TO CITY.

14,000 Veterans, Members of American Legion, to Hear General.

Gen. John J. Pershing made a special automobile trip to Oyster Bay today to visit the widow and children and grandchildren of the President who discovered early in this century that a certain Capt. John J. Pershing, then 40 years old, was an extraordinary soldier and promptly made him a brigadier general over the heads of hundreds of officers who ranked him. Gen. Pershing has long been a friend of the Roosevelt family and his visit was evidence of the esteem in which he holds Mrs. Roosevelt and her children.

Gen. Pershing left the Waldorf with his aide, Col. J. G. Quokemeyer, and two orderlies at 8:15 o'clock. He reached the Roosevelt home at 9:30 o'clock, after riding through the village which was flag and bunting bedecked for the occasion.

Mrs. Roosevelt, her son, Capt. Kermit Roosevelt and his wife, Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt Jr., Mrs. Richard Derby, who was Miss Ethel Roosevelt and the children of Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt Jr., Mrs. Derby and Mrs. Kermit Roosevelt were on the piazza as Gen. Pershing drove up. Mrs. Roosevelt met him on the steps and he formally greeted all the adult members of the family. Then he picked up and kissed all the children one after another and the party went inside the house.

Gen. Pershing chatted with the Roosevelts and played with the children until 10:35 and would have remained longer but for imperative engagements in this city. He did not stop to visit Col. Roosevelt's grave although he rode by the cemetery where a large crowd, carrying American flags, had gathered.

VISITS THE PERSHING CLUB FOR OFFICERS.

Gen. Pershing returned to New York at noon and drove to the Pershing Club for officers at 41th Street and Madison Avenue, where he was met by Robert M. Gillespie, honorary adviser, and many of the women who founded the club. The general remained there only a few minutes and then drove to the Hall of States in West 25th Street. He was greeted there by Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Haing of Missouri and Judge J. B. Sullivan of Iowa.

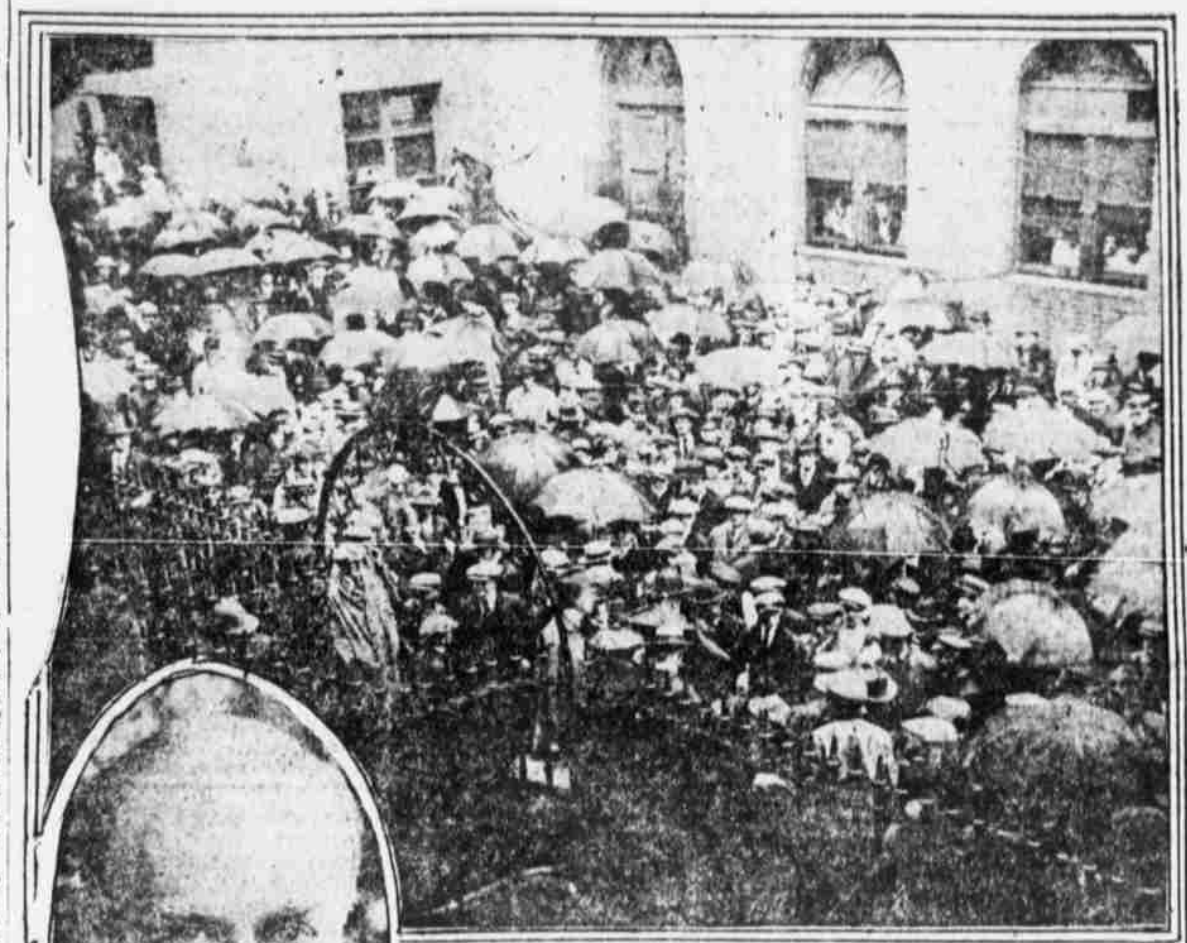

Roland Haynes introduced Gen. Pershing to a number of soldiers and enlisted men in the assembly hall. The general, for himself and in behalf of the army, thanked the managers of the institution and paid a tribute to the splendid spirit which prompted its foundation. He proceeded from there to a luncheon of the Rotary Club on the roof of the Hotel McAlpin.

The Rotarians were holding their first luncheon with women present as guests. Gen. Pershing was greeted with cheers. Rev. Dr. Warren E. Giles presented the general with a silk American flag and introduced him to the audience.

"I wish to assure you," said Gen. Pershing, "that I appreciate your patriotic thoughts of me more than I can say. This flag you have given

GUARDSMEN FIRE INTO MOB ON COMMON, KILLING SAILOR; GIRL DIES OF RIOT WOUNDS

Total Casualties 5 Slain and 20 Hurt—Soldiers Use Bayonets—State Labor Federation Orders Vote on General Strike to Aid Police.

BOSTON, Sept. 11.—Gov. Coolidge this afternoon, by proclamation, took over complete control of the situation surrounding the police strike and use of military forces in Boston. The Governor said he took this action in his capacity as commander-in-chief of the military forces of the State, all of which have been called out.

The Governor ordered Police Commissioner Curtis "to obey only such orders as I may issue or cause to be issued." Mayor Peters yesterday took over control of the Police Department under an old statute and ordered the Police Commissioner to report to him.

Five dead and a score wounded was the penalty paid up to date today for the lawlessness that has marked the police strike. Rioting was resumed on the Boston Common shortly before noon today.

Three men were killed in the disorders of last night. Margaret Walsh, wounded during the night in South Boston when the State Guard fired on a mob, died this morning. Raymond Bayers, who wore the uniform of a sailor, dropped dead from a bullet in the neck when he tried to escape from soldiers who broke up gambling on the Common.

The situation was so grave this afternoon that Governor Coolidge today wired the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy requesting that armed forces be held in readiness for a call to Boston. With six regiments of State Guards under arms, the Governor has mobilized all the forces at his command.

A party of men were gambling today on the spot on the Common where religious services are held on Sundays, when State Guards rounded them up. The gamblers were told to throw up their hands. Bayers turned and fled and was promptly shot. The others were marched past the State House to the city prison.

The outbreak on the Common caused a traffic tie-up of hundreds of automobiles, which were jammed from curb to curb. Fashionably dressed women in luscious screams and made desperate attempts to escape from their cars when the troops fired.

Many of the downtown streets were practically barred areas, through which pedestrians were allowed to pass but in one direction, and then only after they had convinced the guards they would not loiter.

Leo Emery, a member of the State Guard on duty in the Roxbury section, was beaten by a crowd to-day and removed unconscious to a hospital.

The hospitals treated many cases of broken heads while a far greater number nursed their wounds in private in preference to appearing at the hospitals.

During the day there were isolated outbreaks of violence and hoodlums lost no opportunity to set upon a lone soldier or loyal policeman, but those who were brave in numbers slunk to cover when confronted with any considerable force. Throughout the city the State guard did patrol duty over regular beats, at street junctions, directed traffic and kept the crowds moving. They carried guns with fixed bayonets and made an effective appearance. In addition to the State Guard, the volunteer police made up of private citizens to render excellent service toward order.

A survey of the police on duty showed that a greater number of patrolmen had remained faithful to their trust than have been claimed. Out of a total of 1,623 police officers in the department, 335 answered roll call today. This nucleus of the old guard gave new courage to volun-
